Telogis Fleet

Telogis helps fleets of all sizes reduce costs, improve productivity, and enhance driver safety

Improve operations, asset utilization, and driver safety with a proven connected intelligence platform that offers a reliable, scalable, and comprehensive view of any fleet. With real-time alerts and easy-to-use dashboards, Telogis Fleet provides actionable analytics to help drive business transformation.

Telogis Fleet allows companies to visualize their business in real-time with powerful automated reports and intuitive enterprise dashboards. These dashboards are configurable by industry and include Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) that monitor fleet and operational performance.

Why Sell Telogis Fleet?

Creating a lasting partnership – Investing in a new vehicle can be one of the biggest line items on your customer’s budget. The ability to help protect that investment and establish a healthy relationship can mean the difference between closing a one-time deal or laying the foundation of what could be a loyal long-term partnership. By recommending Telogis Fleet into your customers purchasing decision, you are stepping into the role of business advisor, helping them see how to drive down fuel and maintenance costs while driving up safety and efficiency.

Equipping customers with the tools they need - Telogis Fleet gives customers the ability not only to see where their fleet vehicles are at any given time, but also understand more about driver behavior and vehicle conditions. They may currently have limited insight if their drivers are speeding or can only react after a van has maintenance issues. Telogis Fleet changes these factors and puts the power in their hands. These kinds of solutions can reinforce your role as a trusted advisor.
